

*torrents of rain fell upon Kalae o Kaena. The water washed red soil down the valleys until the streams and waterfalls turned red.
Our people called it a blood rain.*

LOSE YOUR VOICE.

AND YOU LOSE YOUR CULTURE.

'Ōlelo gives us the power to share our greatest stories. Take an active role in bringing our hearts and minds together, by tuning in or by being heard on O'ahu's community access stations. Because when our voice thrives, so does our culture.

www.olelo.org

Channels 49, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56.

